ATTACK ON PRISONS AND RELEASE OF MILITANTS

Bangladesh's history bears the scars of a rare and chilling crime: The use of prisons as sites of political violence. That grim chapter first unfolded in 1975 and, nearly five decades later, resurfaced in 2024 under vastly different circumstances, yet with disturbingly similar consequences.

On November 3, 1975, less than three months after the assassination of Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, four of the country's most senior national leaders were brutally killed inside Dhaka Central Jail. The victims, former Acting President Syed Nazrul Islam, former Prime Minister Tajuddin Ahmad, M. Mansur Ali, and A. H. M. Qamaruzzaman, then president of the Bangladesh Awami League, were key architects of the 1971 Liberation War.

The killings, carried out by renegade elements of the military, came with state patronage and followed the August 15, 1975, assassination of Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman and most members of his family. November 3 marked the first-ever attack on a prison in Bangladesh's history, leaving an indelible stain on the nation's post-independence narrative.

For nearly half a century thereafter, no such incident was recorded.

That precedent was broken in 2024.

During the nationwide discrimination reform movement, Bangladesh witnessed a second wave of prison attacks, this time on an unprecedented scale. Confirmed reports indicate that 17 prisons across the country were attacked. In the chaos, 2,247 prisoners escaped from five prisons, including the complete evacuation of inmates from two facilities. At least 16 prisoners were killed in extrajudicial actions amid the unrest.

The material losses were equally alarming. As of August 21, 2025, authorities confirmed that 29 firearms and 7,478 rounds of ammunition looted during the attacks remained unrecovered.

The human toll continues to haunt the justice system. By the same date, 724 escaped prisoners were still at large [i]. Among them were 99 convicted criminals, 84 death row inmates, and individuals linked to militant activities, nine convicted militants (including four on death row) and 70 under trial on terrorism-related charges [ii].

The list of escapees includes defendants in some of Bangladesh's most sensitive and high-profile cases: suspects from the BDR mutiny, accused individuals in the murder of Abrar Fahad, convicted militants, and key defendants in ongoing anti-terrorism prosecutions [iii]. Abrar Fahad was a student of the Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology, and his killing had sparked nationwide outrage.

The contrast between 1975 and 2024 is stark in context but similar in implication. One marked the violent silencing of the nation's liberation leadership, the other exposed deep vulnerabilities in prison security and rule of law during a period of political unrest.

Together, these two moments stand as grim reminders: When prisons are breached, the consequences extend far beyond prison walls, undermining justice, public safety, and confidence in the state itself.

NARSINGDI DISTRICT JAIL ATTACK:

On the afternoon of July 19, 2024, the Narsingdi District Jail was attacked. The attackers launched a sudden, planned assault, taking 160 prison guards and officials, including the jailer and jail superintendent, hostage. Eighty-five firearms, ammunition, cash, and other belongings from the barracks were looted from the prison.

During this time, 826 prisoners, including nine militants, escaped from the jail. Among the militants, 7 were members of Ansarullah Bangla Team, and 2 were female members of JMB. The attackers set fire to the entire prison, including all necessary documents, which continued to burn until the following day [iv]. The attackers also killed one prison guard during the assault [v].

According to prison sources, the militants were freed by groups of 10-12 people [vi]. As of August 5, 2025, 142 prisoners remain absconded [vii].

SHERPUR DISTRICT JAIL ATTACK:

On the afternoon of August 5, 2024, an attack, arson, and looting incident occurred at the Sherpur District Jail. After the attack, all 527 inmates in the prison escaped [viii].

The attackers looted nine firearms, 864 rounds of Chinese rifle ammunition, and 336 rounds of shotgun ammunition, along with food supplies and cash belonging to the prisoners. They set fire to various documents, vehicles, and other structures [ix].

As of August 5, 2025, only 144 of the escaped prisoners have been apprehended [x].

SATKHIRA DISTRICT JAIL ATTACK:

On the same day, August 5, the Satkhira District Jail was also attacked. In the first stage of the attack, the canteen outside the prison was looted, and two motorcycles were vandalized.

Later, the main gate of the prison was broken down, and the attackers entered, vandalized the premises, and broke locks and walls to free the prisoners [xi]. As a result, 596 prisoners escaped [xii]. Among them were 27 prisoners serving life sentences and two prisoners sentenced to death. As of August 5, 2025, 43 of the escaped prisoners, including the two death row inmates and 12 others sentenced to various terms, have not yet been apprehended [xiii].

ATTACK ON CHITTAGONG CENTRAL JAIL:

On August 5, 2024, an attack occurred at the Chittagong Central Jail in Laldighi, Chittagong. More than a thousand people attacked the jail from the outside [xiv]. Inside the prison, inmates also revolted, demanding their release. Clashes broke out between the prison guards and the inmates. The prison guards fired shots to bring the situation under control [xv]. Although no prisoners escaped, one person was killed in the incident [xvi].

ATTACK ON SYLHET CENTRAL JAIL:

On the evening of August 5, 2024, an attack was also carried out on the Sylhet Central Jail. However, it was thwarted by the efforts of the prison guards and security personnel [xvii].

ATTACK ON KERANIGANJ CENTRAL JAIL:

After the fall of the Awami League government, on the morning of August 6, 2024, students detained from the anti-discrimination student movement attacked the Keraniganj Central Jail in Dhaka. They united with other prisoners and attempted to break down the gates [xviii]. The army fired shots to control the situation. Two people were killed at the Keraniganj Central Jail [xix].

ATTACK ON KASHIMPUR HIGH SECURITY PRISON:

On the afternoon of August 6, 2024, an attack occurred at the Kashimpur High Security Prison in Gazipur. The attack was reportedly an attempt to snatch prisoners from the prison. Arson was committed in the vicinity of the prison during this time. Multiple attacks were carried out at the prison entrance from morning until afternoon on that day [xx]. Two hundred nine prisoners escaped from Kashimpur High Security Prison. On August 7 and 8, prisoners attempted to escape by scaling the walls. During this time, six prisoners were killed by gunfire from prison guards [xxi].

Kashimpur High Security Prison houses convicted high-risk prisoners and those requiring extra security. Among the escaped prisoners, 88 were death row inmates. As of August 5, 2025, 141 prisoners remain absconded, including 45 death row inmates [xxii].

ATTACK ON KUSHTIA DISTRICT JAIL:

An attack occurred at the Kushtia District Jail around noon on August 7, 2024. Fifteen prison guards were injured in the attack [xxiii]. One hundred five prisoners escaped from Kushtia Jail. Among them, 16 remain at large, including three militants and convicted criminals [xxiv].

ATTACK ON GAZIPUR DISTRICT JAIL:

On August 8, 2024, an attack occurred inside the Gazipur District Jail. Twenty-five prisoners were injured by gunfire from prison guards, and four prison guards were also wounded in the attack by the prisoners. Extensive vandalism occurred inside the prison, and furniture was set on fire [xxv].

ATTACK ON JAMALPUR DISTRICT JAIL:

On the afternoon of August 8, 2024, an attack was carried out at the Jamalpur District Jail. The prisoners set fire to various wards, including the jailer's office and the prison hospital, inside the prison.

In the ensuing clash, 19 people were injured, including the jailer, three female prison guards, and five prisoners [xxvi], and seven prisoners were killed by gunfire from prison guards [xxvii].

PROTEST INSIDE SIRAJGANJ DISTRICT JAIL:

On August 7, when the detainees arrested in connection with the anti-discrimination student movement were released from Sirajganj jail by presidential executive order, other prisoners also started protesting inside the jail demanding their own release, which was an unprecedented event.

DESTRUCTION OF POLICE INFRASTRUCTURE

According to official information from the Police Headquarters, the July-August 2024 movement in Bangladesh triggered an unprecedented wave of coordinated attacks on law enforcement infrastructure across the country, severely undermining public security and the operational capacity of the police.

A total of 460 police establishments, including police stations, outposts, investigation centers, and auxiliary facilities, were attacked, vandalized, or set ablaze during the unrest. Among these, 58 police stations, 26 outposts, two investigation centers, 106 police boxes, 29 offices, and three other police establishments were set on fire. In addition, 56 police stations, 24 outposts, 10 investigation centers, 30 police boxes, 28 offices, 15 police line establishments, and 73 other facilities were vandalized.

Firearms, ammunition looted from several stations in city, elsewhere

The damage was particularly acute in the capital. In the Dhaka Metropolitan Police jurisdiction alone, 21 police stations were vandalized, while 10 police stations were torched, reflecting the intensity of the violence in Dhaka during the movement [xxviii].

Beyond arson and vandalism, police facilities across almost the entire country were systematically looted. While authorities have records detailing the loss of government property, there is no official accounting of personal belongings belonging to police members that were stolen during these attacks.

The scale of material destruction was staggering. Three hundred police vehicles were burned entirely, while 548 vehicles were extensively damaged through vandalism [xxix]. In total, 1,024 vehicles of various types sustained damage. Financial assessments estimate that assets worth approximately 607 crore taka (US$50 million) were destroyed nationwide.

Despite the magnitude of the violence and losses, no cases have been filed concerning the attacks on or looting of police establishments. Official records further show that by July 25, 2024, even before the movement reached its peak, 80 police establishments had already been attacked and looted [xxxi].

Security officials warn that the consequences are now being felt nationwide. Intelligence reports indicate that looted weapons and ammunition are being sold to criminal groups, contributing to a sharp rise in murder, robbery, extortion, and other violent crimes. The unchecked circulation of police-grade firearms has significantly altered the criminal landscape.

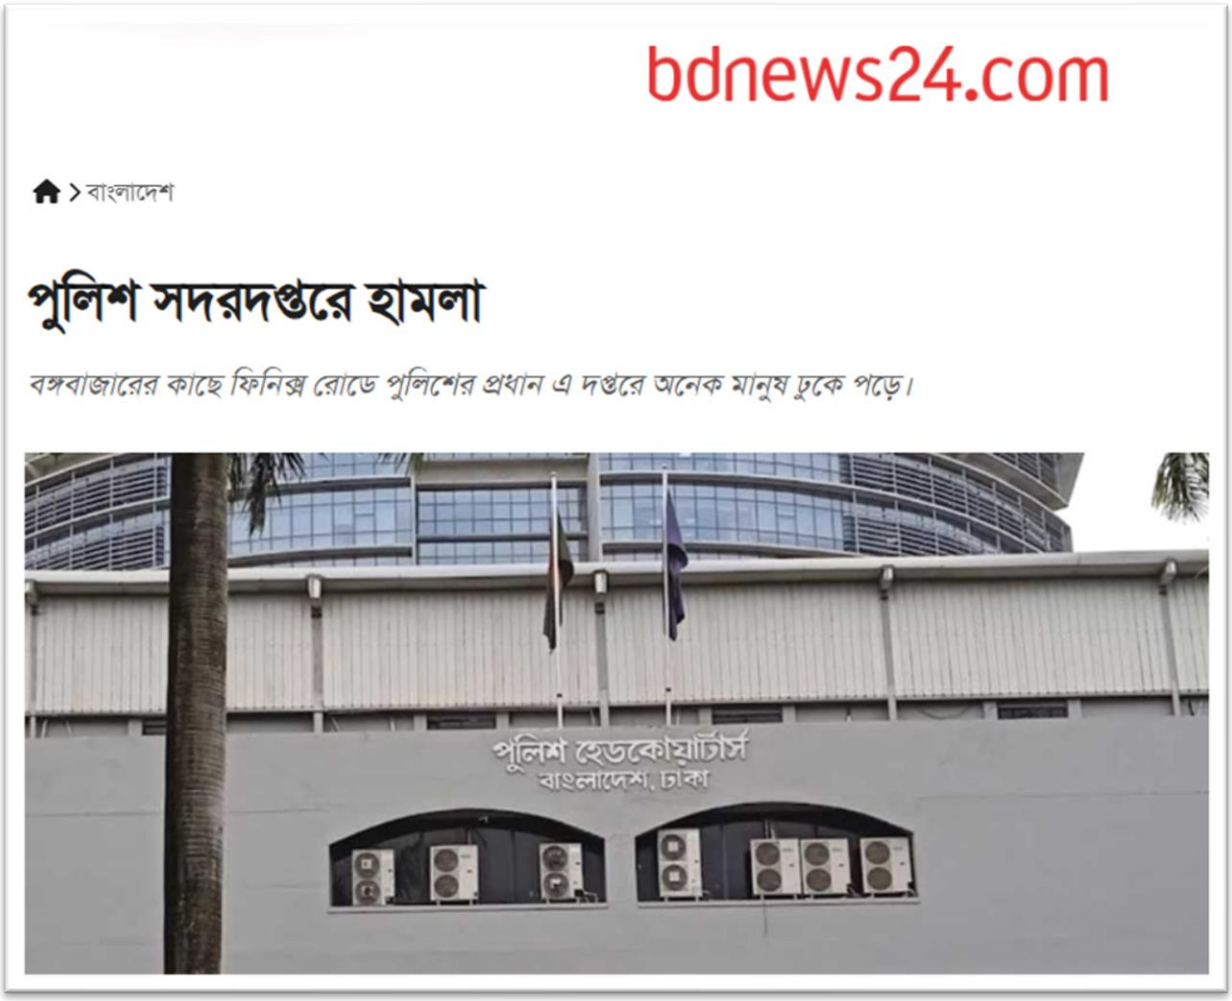

Equally damaging has been the psychological impact on law enforcement personnel. Senior officers acknowledge that the government's failure to take decisive legal and administrative action has severely eroded police morale, leaving many members feeling exposed, unsupported, and vulnerable.

Taken together, the attacks of July-August 2024 represent one of the gravest assaults on Bangladesh's internal security framework since independence, raising urgent questions about accountability, recovery of looted arms, and the long-term implications for law and order.

44 policemen killed during student-mass uprising: Police HQ

Police headquarters said that a total of 44 policemen had died during the violence over the student-mass uprising that led to toppling of Awami League regime.

Media department of police headquarters revealed the information on Sunday. It also provided a list of the police members who died during the protests.

The police headquarters said these cops were killed between 20 July and 14 August. Highest 25 policemen died on 5 August and 15 on 4 August. Apart from that, two members died while undergoing treatment on 20 August and one each on 12 and 14 August.

Analysis of the list revealed that of the cops died, 21 were constables, 11 were sub-inspectors, eight assistant sub-inspectors, three inspectors and one nayek.

A total of 15 cops were killed at Enayetpur police station in Sirajganj alone.

Authorities acknowledge that the killings of the 44 confirmed police officers were exceptionally gruesome, involving extreme violence that shocked even veteran members of the force.

Despite the scale and brutality of the attacks, no visible steps have been taken by the government or the police administration to ensure justice for the slain officers. Not a single murder case has been filed at the relevant police stations in connection with the killings.

Under the current Interim Government of Bangladesh, a ban has reportedly been imposed on filing cases related to the police deaths. At the same time, indemnity has been granted to those involved in killing police officers during the movement. This decision has deepened mistrust and despair among the families of the deceased, many of whom now fear that justice may never be served.

Beyond the fatalities, the human cost within the police force has been severe. Official data show that 637 police officers sustained injuries, including loss of limbs. In comparison, more than 3,000 officers were seriously injured during the violence, leaving long-term physical and psychological scars across the force.

As the nation continues to grapple with the aftermath of the 2024 unrest, the absence of accountability for the deaths of police officers remains a deeply contentious issue. Families of the victims say their grief is compounded by silence from the authorities, while analysts warn that unresolved injustice could further erode morale within Bangladesh's law enforcement institutions.
